2017 Arts In Kanata-Carleton

When a dynamic group of community leaders come together you can bet something exciting will happen. A steering committee with representatives from the Kanata Theatre, Kanata Symphony, Kanata Choral Society, Kanata Art Gallery, Kanata Band, Goulbourn Jubilee Singers, the West Ottawa Ladies Chorus and Goulbourn Male Chorus wanted to present a celebration for Canada's 150th birthday in their own community and make it accessible to families free of charge. The result; The Kanata-Carleton Cultural Festival presenting a full day of festivities and entertainment featuring local arts and cultural groups. The diverse groups in the Kanata and surrounding area will gather on May 27th, 2017 throughout the day to present music, theatre, dance, singing and orchestral performances and display artwork at the Earl of March High School and Sandwell Green Park.

However, Kanata-Carleton has a wealth of activities happening throughout the year so to promote the festival and local talent, a 50 page booklet highlighting numerous arts and cultural Groups and their yearly schedules has been made available with the support of Fernbank Crossing. The booklets are now available at libraries, community centres, businesses and through your local councillor. This is a valuable tool for local residents to use throughout the year as a reference guide to their entertainment. It also showcases the number of groups that are active in our community. It is a calendar, a reference guide for Kanata, Stittsville, West-Carleton and Goulbourn residents.
